In with the New: Ochsner officially assumes responsibility for Hancock Medical

‘This transaction is about improving healthcare in the community’

This Sunday, Ochsner Health System will officially assume operational duties at Hancock Medical Center in Bay St. Louis. In September 2017, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors approved entering into a 25-year lease agreement with Ochsner. Ochsner has committed to investing $33.75 million in lease payments and capital investments, a September release on Ochsner's website states. The agreement also says that Ochsner will pay

"$850,000 in annual lease payments with a required $500,000 annual capital investment into the facility. At the end of the lease term, Ochsner will have the option to purchase the facility, the release states. As of Sunday, the hospital's name will be changed to Ochsner Medical Center - Hancock, CEO Alan Hodges said Friday. "This transaction is about improving healthcare in the community and patient outcomes," Hodges said. One of the first new improvements people will see is technology, he said.

Last week, the Mississippi Legislature approved Senate Bills No. 3026 and 2940, which will authorize the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland to allow the operation of low-speed vehicles on certain streets within the cities' limits. District 46 Senator Philip Moran authored both bills and said he's been working on this golf cart legislation for the past three years. They have both been approved by Gov. Phil Bryant and will be signed in the next few days, he added. "I'm glad to be able to get them passed," Moran said Thursday. "Everyone is looking forward to utilizing them (low-speed vehicles) downtown. Several others in the state passed this year as well. Next year, I'll be trying to get a blanket bill for the entire state." According to both bills, a golf cart is defined as a "motor vehicle that is designed and manufactured for operation on a

MDOT hosts Diamondhead forum on possible I-10 improvements

SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi Department of Transportation on Wednesday hosted a public forum before a packed house in Diamondhead to discuss possible improvements on I-10.

MDOT plans to widen I-10 by adding a lane in each direction from west of the Diamondhead interchange to just east of the Wolf River. Due to the projected growth, there is also a proposal to build a buffer wall along the roadside to help reduce noise for residents who live near the interstate.

"A study has been performed to determine the projected increase in noise levels based on traffic growth from the added travel lanes," MDOT said in a news release. "The study concluded that a noise wall would provide a reasonable benefit if constructed. The decision to construct a noise wall will depend on whether a majority of the benefited residences want the wall or not.

The wall, estimated at $4 million, would be paid for through 80 percent federal funding and 20 percent state funding.

MDOT officials say the noise wall would be built at the same time the interstate is widened, but there is no current time frame, and the funding has not yet been secured.

MDOT officials on Wednesday host a public forum in Diamondhead to discuss the possibility of widening I-10 and constructing a noise barrier.

Monk stops in Bay on cross-country bike tour to promote peace and unity

Bro. Lawrence Chase, 62, stops in Bay St. Louis this week while on a cross-country tour to promote peace and unity.

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

Bro. Lawrence Chase is a monk on a mission, biking his way across much of the U.S. to promote peace and unity.

Although cross-country trips for causes are nothing new, Chase said when he stopped in Bay St. Louis this week, "This hasn't been done before. It's about establishing an atmosphere of serenity and peace right there on the National Mall" in Washington, D.C.

Chase's journey began last September in Lorton, Va., outside the nation's capital. Rather than asking for financial donations, Chase asks those he encounters along the way to create prayer flags or messages of peace on scraps of fabric and mail them to a church, where they will be collected and placed on display.

"Instead of a whole lot of money being spent, this is a way to do something peaceful and important and have a benevolent, positive effect," Case said.

"This is a chance for all Americans to do something that will be long remembered."

You don't have to be Catholic -- or even Christian -- to participate, Chase said.

"I'm not promoting any agenda," he said. "This is a way to transcend all that. ... Every city already has inter-faith infrastructures, but this will be the first time people have done that on a national level."

Anyone can send a message -- Chase said it doesn't have to be fancy. Some people have used expensive fabric and paints and glitter, and some have just torn off a scrap of old pillow case and used a Sharpie, he said.

You can send messages to American Faith Unity Tour c/o Pohick Episcopal Church, 9301 Richmond Hwy., Lorton, VA 22079.

New legislation protects beneficiaries of social security disability benefits

SEA COAST ECHO
Legislation passed by the US Senate will increase oversight and protections for some of our nation's most vulnerable citizens. The bill, called the Strengthening Protections for Social Security Beneficiaries Act (HR 4547), will increase independent oversight of the SSA's Representative

Payee program. A representative payee is a person who acts as the receiver of Social Security Disability or Supplemental Security Income for a person who is not fully capable of managing their own benefits. Unfortunately, multiple investigations have uncovered representative payees who have stolen or misused funds, exploited, neglected, and even abused the people with disabilities they were supposed to be helping. HR 4547 specifically authorizes the nation's protection and advocacy systems (P&As) to monitor and investigate how representative payees are administering Social Security funds. P&As are federally mandated organizations that provide legal and other advocacy services to people with disabilities in every U.S. state and territory. Mississippi's P&A is Disability Rights Mississippi (DRMS)— a statewide agency with offices in Jackson and Gulfport. Disability Rights Mississippi Executive Director, Polly Tribble, said "This is a great day for people who have a representative payee. Congress is protecting their interests by providing this needed oversight." In Mississippi, there are 249,440 people receiving Social Security benefits. The House of Representatives approved the bill unanimously in February. It now goes to the White House where President Trump is expected to sign it into law. For more information about DRMS go to www.drms.ms replace veteran African-American educator Joan Thomas on the Bay-Waveland School District Board of Trustees. "People have been done wrong," Thomas said Wednesday. "This is about making it right." The group protested at the Bay St. Louis City Council meeting last week and one of its members, Charles Joseph, read a long letter into the public record outlining its concerns. The major point of contention, Joseph said at the time, is that "For the first time since the integration of the Bay Waveland School District, there is no African-American on the school board. Two African-Americans have now been replaced since Mayor Favre took office. Complete elimination of direct African-American representation comes as a result of the decision you made as our city council." Another concern, Joseph said, is that soon after Favre's appointment to replace Thomas on the board was ratified, the two newest members of the school board voted to appoint the mayor's son, Casey Favre, as board president, "and the superintendent favored by the majority of the previous board is now gone." "It can't be about family or about cliques," EDJE member Rhonda Labat said during Wednesday's protest. "It's got to be about our children first." For her part, Thomas said Wednesday, she feels like she has been vilified. Although she had been a veteran educator, church-goer and respected member of the community, she said, "once it started with the reappointments, I became an evil person." "Everything they have accused me of - it's a lie!" Favre has said publicly that the EDJE group has "twisted" some of the facts in the situation to fit its own narrative; and that the decision not to reappoint Thomas to the school board was not about race or politics, simply that he felt the new appointee, Ann Lathrop, was a better candidate for the job. "I stand by the memorandum we sent out and the facts that were in it," Favre said last week. "I stand by the facts I based my decision on and we appointed the right person for that position."

GUEST OPINION

by Representative
Carolyn Crawford

Final House weekly summary

Legislators completed the last day of the 2018 legislative session on Wednesday, March 28, after working through the weekend to finalize the state budget.

While many significant pieces of legislation did not make it through the process this year, several did and are now being signed into law by the Governor.

One of the most notable pieces of legislation this session was a law to prohibit abortion after 15 weeks of pregnancy. This will be the most restrictive abortion law in the country.

The legislature spent a good bit of time discussing Medicaid this year. While the federal government provides certain services, the state must decide what additional services it will provide. This year, members adopted legislation that mandates that managed care companies pay the same reimbursement rate as the legislature-set rates for Medicaid. The new law deletes the annual limit on physician visits, home health service visits and the monthly prescription limit. It will also provide reimbursement for treatment for those experiencing opioid dependency, provide payment options for rural hospitals and reimbursements for OB/GYNs and psychiatrists.

Pharmacists will now be able to provide additional information to patients about affordable options for medication with the Prescription Drugs Consumer Affordable Alternative Payment Options Act.

Bonds for this year total $250 million and will go toward the Local System Bridge Repair and Rehabilitation Program (LSBP), universities and community colleges, Ingalls, the Department of Finance and Administration and a loan program to assist small cities and counties with water and sewer projects.

The failure to have mandatory motor vehicle liability insurance will now be a criminal offense instead of a civil violation.

Transport of unopened beer and light wine on state and federal highways in dry areas of the state will now be allowed. Municipalities that have voted to permit the sale and consumption of alcohol will also be able to establish leisure and recreation districts, which will allow consumers to walk from place to place with alcohol within a designated area.

The Kaelin Kersh Act will require that any operator of an emergency vehicle must use the vehicle's blinking or rotating lights when traveling at a speed faster than 30 miles per hour over the speed limit.

Legislation to address the concerns of veterans will remove the prohibition that county veteran service officers may not hold additional elected or appointed positions, and allow the executive or deputy director of the State Veterans Affairs Board to be an active member of the Armed Forces.

The legislature also expanded reemployment protec-

Wicker Honors Cochran's Career of Public Service

Retiring Mississippi Senator Leaves a Legacy of Historic Milestones

I have been fortunate to know Thad Cochran and his family for most of my life. We share the same small hometown of Pontotoc, where we were both born at the Rayburn Clinic. Years later, as a young college student, I knocked on doors asking people to elect him to Congress.

That election in 1972 was merely the beginning of an exceptional public service career that has spanned more than 45 years. After six years in the U.S. House of Representatives, Thad Cochran would go on to fill the seat left vacant by James Eastland in the U.S. Senate.

Since then, Sen. Cochran has become an instrumental figure in the upper chamber, rising to some of its most powerful positions — Chairman of the Agriculture Committee and Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, to name just two. As he embarks on this well-earned retirement, I am grateful for the unwavering commitment he has shown to the people of Mississippi and for the remarkable opportunity I have had to work with him in the Senate.

Sen. Cochran, known as the "quiet persuader," has built an extensive record of accomplishments. High among them is the delivery of key disaster assistance funds to the Gulf Coast in the wake of Hurricane Katrina. More recently, he joined me in sponsoring the "RESTORE Act" to revive the coastal economies and ecosystems that were hurt by the Deepwater Horizon oil spill. We have joined forces to protect U.S. catfish against unsafe imports, supported Mississippi's strategic role in national defense, and consistently looked out for our state's rural communities.

In the process, Sen. Cochran has become part of an exclusive group, adding another Mississippi name to the top 10 list of longest-serving Senators in the history of our republic. Sen. Cochran ranks tenth on that list, and the late Sen. John Stennis ranks

Shameful relics need to stay in the past

"We have met the enemy, and he is us."

While we're having a bit of a racial dust-up here in Bay St. Louis since the last African-American member of the Bay-Waveland School District Board of Trustees was replaced, it's quite mild compared to what's going on in Ocean Springs right now.

In case you missed it, some "proud southern redneck from Dixie" -- who has dubbed himself the Imperial Klod (he says "Kludd," I say "Klod") of the United Dixie White Knights of the KKK -- sent a threatening video to a Gulf Coast civil rights group this week.

The Klod, who also goes by the name "Rev. Smith," targeted Mississippi Rising Coalition President Lea Campbell, telling her in a message that "We want you to know that we are tired of your liberal homosexual anti-Biblical principles you're spreading. The boys are back and we are not backing down. Call us bigots if you want. But we win in the end."

Let me just say, Klod, you're right.

You're a bigot. Mississippi Rising, along with the Jackson County NAACP -- and, in fact, our own Hancock County NAACP -- has been working to get the Mississippi state flag replaced.

Regardless of where you stand on that issue, it seems to me that if you feel you have to wear a mask and threaten and intimidate people in order to try to get them over to your way of thinking, maybe you aren't doing it right.

What's the goal here, Klod? Do you want to remind people of the "good ole days," when the KKK used to routinely harass, threaten, intimidate, torture and murder innocent people? Because if so, it's working.

No offense, but it might undermine your cause a bit, because you're gonna make everyone who shares your loyalty to the current flag look like they, too, would like to return to those "good ole days," when all black people were treated as second-class citizens. Discriminated against. Spit upon. Beaten, or worse, if they offended the wrong person.

Surely, that's not what the flag supporters want.

There are still plenty of folks living right here in Bay St. Louis who remember the days not so long ago when people of color were not allowed to eat in certain restaurants, and were forced to drink from separate drinking fountains.

I don't know about you, but I still hold a grudge against a local fast food joint because six years ago, they left the bacon off of my cheeseburger. I can't imagine what it would be like if they kicked me out because I was the wrong shade.

There's an old question that should probably be asked here more often: Which side of history do you want to be on?

In Mississippi, we usually ignore that question, because we've proven quite adept at changing the narrative. Some of us have accepted as true a -- literally -- white-washed version of history where everything was great for everybody back in the "good ole days."

The problem is, the rest

USM College of Business Names Chuck Scianna Entrepreneur of the Year

SEA COAST ECHO

The Business Advisory Council for The College of Business at The University of Southern Mississippi will honor Chuck Scianna ('75) as the 2018 Entrepreneur of the Year during a luncheon on Friday, April 6th in the Trent Lott National Center on the Hattiesburg campus. Scianna is the owner, founder, and President of Sim-Tex, a leading firm in the oil country tubular goods (OCTG) industry.

Sim-Tex, LP distributes pipes to the oil and gas industry and offers its services in hydrostatic testing and threading through use of an international supply chain. In simple terms, Sim-Tex provides the pipe that is used to produce oil and gas out of the well. Its products flow through distributors and retail OCTG pipe distribution companies.

Scianna completed an undergraduate degree in finance from USM, an MBA from University of Houston, and a distinguished record of service in the U.S. Marine Corps. He maintained a full time position as co-manager of an A&P food store in Bay St. Louis, Miss., while completing his undergraduate degree at USM, and fulfilled the requirements for a CPA license as he pursued opportunities in the oil industry in Texas. He founded Sim-Tex in 1986 and established working relationships with Hyundai Hysco OCTG products, and Benteler Steel that have lasted over several decades.

As an entrepreneur, Scianna not only leads Sim-Tex, he is also actively involved in banking, real estate, natural gas compression, natural gas cooling, operates a small farming and ranch operation and owns a small R&D company which owns several patents related to the oil and gas industry.

He describes the basis of his success as a focus and joy in the work, in the creation of new approaches, in always learning, and in connecting parts that make a successful business thrive. His ranch raises beef naturally with no additives and he operates Sim-Tex as an international enterprise from his headquarters in Waller, Texas. "Chuck Scianna is an exemplar for the life of an entrepreneur. He does not seem to rest or stop learning," said Dr. Faye Gilbert, Dean of the USM College of Business. "His drive to improve the industry, his community, and his approaches to business seem to be tireless pursuits that keep him engaged in the industry and in making a difference in the lives of others. He says that he was in the right place at the right time. I would say he had the right set of skills and abilities to translate risky chances into viable opportunities."

Added Gilbert: "I commend him for remembering so many others as he has worked to succeed in this field and am very glad that the Advisory Council could highlight him as the entrepreneur of 2018. It is humbling to see someone achieve success who also works hard to balance his life with family and giving back to others."

Chuck and his family are actively involved with the Marine Corps Heritage Foundation, the Marine Corps Scholarship Fund, Boys and Girls Country in Houston, Weekly YMCA in Houston, St. Jude's, the USM Foundation, the USM Athletic Foundation, and the Texas Public Policy Foundation. He has served as President of the Waller Economic Development Corporation, the Knights of Columbus Council, the Marine Corps Heritage Foundation, and other civic groups.

The Entrepreneur of the Year award is sponsored by an endowment established by the late Joseph Boardman for the College of Business.

tions for military servicemen and veterans with a law that will ensure that a service member or veteran be restored to his or her previous position after returning from training with the Armed Forces in another state.

An act was created to provide certain immunities for a person who requests assistance during a medical emergency caused by the consumption of alcohol.

The issue of dog fighting was addressed and penalties increased for any person that owns, possesses, buys, sells, transfers, or manufactures paraphernalia for the purpose of dog fighting. The bill sets the maximum penalty for dog fighting at a fine of $10,000 or 10 years in the State Penitentiary.

While still challenging, crafting the state budget was not as difficult this year after a boost in the economy provided lawmakers with an extra $56 million. This year the approximately $6 billion budget provided small increases for education, Child Protective Services, the Department of Public Health and the Department of Public Safety. In finalizing the budget legislators also set aside two percent of the general fund for the state's rainy day fund.

The KKK and its hateful, violent, bigotry -- and racism itself -- are shameful relics of our checkered past, and that's where they need to stay.

If we can't eventually get over our past, what kind of future can we possibly have?

seventh, having served 41 years. Sen. Cochran is also one of only a handful of Senators who have cast more than 10,000 Senate votes. He has actually surpassed 13,000.

It is fitting that Sen. Cochran has reached so many milestones during his four decades in the Senate. His very election to the chamber was itself a historic moment, in which he became the first Republican to win a statewide election in Mississippi in over a century.

This speaks volumes about the confidence that Mississippians have had in Sen. Cochran to work on their behalf in Washington. Ever the statesman, Sen.

Cochran has been able to find solutions without bombast or attention. His diligence, resolve, and leadership speak for themselves, and they have done so throughout his life -- as an Eagle Scout, class valedictorian, varsity athlete, and top law student.

On March 22, I joined my colleagues on the Senate floor to say a few words honoring Sen. Cochran. I quoted this line from the American poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow: "Lives of great men all remind us / We can make our lives sublime, / And, departing, leave behind us / Footprints on the sands of time." Sen. Cochran has left indelible footprints on the Senate, on our state, and on this great country. He will be greatly missed in the halls of Congress, but the example he has set is sure to remain for generations to come.

Proposed legislation that did not make it through the process included a new education funding formula, an all-encompassing road and bridge improvement plan and a state lottery.

golf course for sporting or recreational purposes and that is not capable of exceeding speeds of 20 miles-per-hour and is equipped with the safety equipment as required under 49 CFR Section 571.500."

"A low-speed vehicle means any four-wheeled electric or gasoline-powered vehicle that has a top speed greater than 20 miles-per-hour but less than 25 miles-per-hour and is equipped with safety equipment as required under 49 CFR Section 571.500," the bills state.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Mike Favre said Thursday that council members are already circulating and working on a rough draft ordinance.

The ordinance will include which streets low-speed vehicles will be allowed on.

"They won't be allowed on Highway 90 or Highway 603," Favre said. "They will be allowed at certain red light crossings."

According to Senate

Bill No. 3026, in order to operate a low-speed vehicle or golf cart within the city limits of Bay St. Louis, drivers must possess a valid driver's license and proof of insurance. Owners of low-speed vehicles and golf carts will be required to register their vehicles with the city and the bill authorizes the city to charge a registration fee, which will be deposited into the city's municipal general fund.

"The owner of the low-speed vehicle or golf cart shall be issued a registration decal by the city that must be displayed as determined by the city," the bill states. "The registration shall remain valid for as long as the registering owner owns the low-speed vehicle or golf cart."

According to the bill, low-speed vehicles will be allowed on public roads and streets with a speed limit of 25 miles-per-hour or less.

In January, the city of Waveland approved a resolution supporting legislation authorizing the use of low-speed vehicles and golf-carts within the city's limits, Waveland Mayor Mike Smith said Thursday.

In Senate Bill No. 2940, the designated areas in Waveland are listed in Section 2.

Low-speed vehicles and golf carts will only be allowed within the residential areas above and below Highway 90. Public roads and streets excluded from the operation of these vehicles include: All of Highway 90; all of Kiln-Waveland Cutoff; all of Highway 603 from the intersection of Highway 90 and Waveland Avenue to Maple Street; and from the intersection of Highway 90 and Nicholson Avenue to Jeff Davis Avenue, the bills states.

Waveland drivers of low-speed vehicles must also possess a valid driver's license, proof of insurance and register the vehicle for a fee with the city. At the time of registration, the city of Waveland will also issue a map outlining the areas low-speed vehicles and golf carts are allowed, the bill states.

"I'm happy that it passed," Smith said. "We want a walkable city and slow-moving vehicle city south of the tracks. With all the building in Waveland, it seems like we're about to boom and this will make it much more attractive."

The bills can be viewed in their entirety at www.legislature.ms.gov

Moran said the bills will go into effect on July 1.

Ochsner

"It will be connected to the Ochsner system electronically," Hodges said. "It will be tying fragmented care together to get a whole look at a patient."

Hodges added that people will see new physicians joining the hospital.

On April 3, Epic electronic healthcare information software is scheduled to go live across the clinics and the hospital, Hodges said.

"It replaces an older system designed for a previous time," he said.

The Hancock Medical Foundation Board is "alive and well," Hodges said.

The board, "which determines its own governance," will continue to support the hospital, he added.

According to the September release, Ochsner will also create a seven-member advisory board that will include at least three community members appointed by the board of supervisors with the board president serving as an ex officio member.

Hodges said he is thankful for his staff, doctors and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors for "making this happen."

"It took a lot of time and was a complicated transition," he said. "Everyone engaged in the process. I'm incredibly proud and thankful. We're to have a fantastic facility all about enhancing patient quality and safety. We are putting the tools in place to enhance healthcare in Hancock County for years to come."

ful purposes.

The arrest stemmed from a report filed by the mother of a four-year-old girl, who "disclosed Renshaw had molested her during that (he) lived with her and her mother," Peterson said. "The alleged incidents occurred (in) Saucier. After investigators conducted interviews, a warrant for Renshaw's arrest was issued."

Agents from a U.S. Marshal's Task Force detained Renshaw in Hancock County and transferred him to the Harrison County Adult Detention Center, Peterson said.

Renshaw is being held in lieu of a $100,000 bond set by Justice Court Judge Brandon Ladner, pending his initial appearance, Peterson said.

was found to be suffering from what police say appears to have been shaken baby syndrome.

In a press release issued this week, Peterson said that on Tuesday, March 20, the child was transported to an area hospital due to difficulty breathing.

Upon an initial assessment of the child's condition, Peterson said, she was sent to USA Medical Center in Mobile, Al. for critical care. According to Peterson, the USA Medical staff discovered the child showed symptoms of "Shaken Baby Syndrome".

On Thursday, March 22, the Mississippi Department of Child Protective Services contacted the Harrison County Sheriff's Office regarding the incident. Peterson said an investigation was launched into the matter and later that same day, Mobile police arrested the child's father, Christopher Shawn Lipscomb, on the outstanding Mississippi warrant at the hospital.

The child remains in critical condition at the USA Medical Center in the intensive care unit. Lipscomb was extradited and booked into the Harrison County Jail after waiving his rights to extradition. He is being held in lieu of a $100,000 bond set by Justice Court Judge Diane Ladner pending an initial court appearance.

Pirates & Rocks split on diamond, Lady Hawks clipped in extra innings 1-0

The area schools played their series this week on the diamond early for two reasons. One, schools let out for the Easter holiday on Holy Thursday and, two, because of inclement weather that hit our area on Thursday evening.

The Pass Christian Pirates and the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws played a crucial division series this past week with each team getting a win.

The Rocks (5-9, 1-5) picked up a 10-1 on Tuesday on the road over the Pirates.

Daniel Wolf had a complete game on the mound allowing one earned run, four hits and fanned four batters.

Jansen Switzer had two hits for the Pirates while Nathan Weatherly and Mason Knapp added the other hits.

The Rocks put four runs on the board in the fourth inning to make the difference in the game.

Braxton Bean had two hits followed by Wolf,

Corban O'Bannon and Jackson Garrett. Colin Fredrickson scored twice after getting on base with three walks.

SSC head coach Mark Logan commented, "Daniel Wolf did a good job on the mound for us, as he has done all year. We are in each game he has pitched. He has done his job but at times, we have not supported him on the field and in the box. Tonight, we had some big hits with runners in scoring position. We were able to put pressure on Pass Christian rather than it be the other way around. All the games are big from this point forward with little margin for error."

The Pirates (6-10, 3-2) defeated SSC 13-11 in nine innings to split the series on Wednesday. The Pirates put a run up in the first, two in the second, four in the fourth and sixth and two in the ninth while SSC scored two in the first, one in the third, five in the fourth, two in the fifth and one in the seventh.

With lots of offense the Pirates were led by Knapp with three hits and two RBIs while Weatherly added two hits and three RBIs. Trentin Book at also had two hits while Mason Necaie, Dalton Freret, Th Trochessett, Dustin Allison, and Bryce Ladner all had a hit.

There was also quite a bit of offense for SSC including Braxton Bean with two hits including a grand slam and eight RBIs. Colin Fredrickson added a solo homerun. Taylor Lafontaine had two doubles while Trace Rhodes, Braxton Shirley, Corban O'Bannon, Tristan Bush and Jackson Garrett all had hits.

The Bay High Tigers (9-6, 3-2) swept Moss Point with wins of 13-5 and 6-1.

In the first game, Addison Goscinski led the way with two hits including a homerun and four RBIs while Cade Compretta added a homerun and three RBIs. Joe Bell and CJ Levandoski each had two hits and an RBI.

In the second game, Bay High was led by Levandoski with two hits while Compretta hit another homerun. Nathaniel Wilson, Goscinski and Bell all added a hit.

The Hancock Hawks (10-8, 0-5) were swept last week by Harrison Central 4-0 and 6-1.

In the first game, the Hawks got two hits from Michael Marie while Russell Frank, Colton Cuevas and Dalton Necaie all had hits.

In the second game, Landon Jordan had two hits including a triple while Marie, Necaie, Clayton Houchin and Lane Ladner all had hits. Houchin was credited with the RBI.

On the softball diamond, the Lady Tigers and the Lady Pirates battled on Tuesday. The Lady Pirates (5-8, 1-2) claimed a 5-1 victory.

Brooke Roach led Pass Christian with two hits including a homerun and four RBIs while Amber Funderburk and Marly Crawford each had hits.

The Lady Tigers were paced by Kayla Lafontaine and Aubrey Smith with hits. Smith was credited with the RBI.

The Hancock Lady Hawks (10-3, 1-2) dropped a hard fought game against the Harrison Central Lady Red Rebels 1-0 in eight innings.

Jennah Necaie, Paige Jordan and Brooke Fagan all had hits.

In upcoming action on the baseball diamond, the Bay High Tigers host Gautier today. The Tigers and the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws hook up for their annual series this week. The two teams play at Bay High on Tuesday, April 3rd and at SSC on Friday, April 6th. The Hancock Hawks will host Biloxi on Tuesday and travel to Biloxi on Friday.

In upcoming action on the softball diamond, the Lady Tigers will host East Central on Tuesday and travel to Moss Point on Thursday and Gulfport on Friday. The Lady Hawks will travel to St. Martin on Tuesday and Picayune on Friday. OLA does not play again until they travel to Collins on Tuesday, April 10th. See you at the games!

National Wild Turkey Federation

SEA COAST ECHO

The National Wild Turkey Federation is dedicated to the conservation of the wild turkey and the preservation of our hunting heritage. As such, the NWTF – Mississippi Chapter annually spends superfund dollars to conduct and assist in events that promote, recruit, and educate MS residents in the areas of hunting, conservation, and safety.

The NWTF works to assist private landowners in SE MS in a variety of different ways. One of those ways is by employing a full-time Wildlife Biologist in Southeast MS that provides technical guidance and written management plans to help implement habitat conservation work on private lands while getting landowners cost-share assistance to do so. In addition, the NWTF supports the “Fire on the Forty” program, which is an endeavor to promote the use of prescribed fire across MS through educational outreach and cost-sharing with private landowners. As a result of this program over 10,000 acres are anticipated to be managed with prescribed fire in 2017-18.

The NWTF also works with public lands across the state including several areas in SE MS like the Bogue Chitto NWR, Old River WMA, and Marion County WMA to name a few. Projects on these areas include the creation of firelines that will be utilized to help implement prescribed burning on over 500 acres and the treatment of invasive species such as Cogan Grass that have out-competed native vegetation. A portion of these projects has been completed and some are ongoing at this time.

If you are interested in learning more about the NWTF and all we do, we have an upcoming local banquet April 12th at 5:30 p.m. at Davis Sports and Outdoors 2312 Hwy 11 N, Picayune, MS. If you have any questions or concerns, feel free to contact the area Biologists Derek Alkire at dalkire@nwtf.net, Kacie Bauman at kbauman@nwtf.net, or the Regional Director Jimmy Barton at 601-455-3318.

Pass resident Ronnie Daniels appointed to CMR

SEA COAST ECHO

Gov. Phil Bryant has appointed Ronnie Daniels to the state Commission on Marine Resources to represent charter boat fishermen.

Daniels begins his term July 1. He will replace Ron Harmon, who currently represents charter boat fishermen. Harmon’s term ends June 30.

“I have enjoyed serving on the Commission,” Harmon said, “but my work obligations have made it difficult for me to devote the time needed to represent charter boat fishermen.”

Daniels owns Fisher-Man Guide Service and has 20 years of fishing experience. He lives in Pass Christian with his wife Jamie and their two children, Abigail and Fisher.

“I am honored to be asked to serve on the Commission,” Daniels said. “I am very excited about all this term will bring.”

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources is dedicated to enhancing, protecting and conserving marine interests of the state by managing all marine life, public trust wetlands, adjacent uplands and waterfront areas to provide for the optimal commercial, recreational, educational and economic uses of these resources consistent with environmental concerns and social changes. three quarterback hurries, two forced fumbles and a blocked field goal.

In his career, Weber recorded 146 total tackles with 18 tackles for loss including 10 sacks (-52 yards), five quarterback hurries, two forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and two blocked field goals.

Weber commented on his signing, "Millsaps is a school that I have always followed. I know a couple of the players on the team and that helped make my decision. When I visited, the atmosphere just felt right. The coaching staff really went out of their way to make me feel like I belonged there and that sold it. They have a tremendous staff and I am looking forward with great excitement to being able to play for the Majors. They have plans to keep me on the defensive side of the ball at end which is also extremely appealing to me. I am ready to take this next step and I can't wait to get on campus."

During his time in the red and black, Weber was part of four consecutive years in the playoffs while advancing to the Class 4A state championship game in 2015. He was also part of two Division 8-4A title teams in 2015-16.

SSC head football coach Jeff Jordan stated, "We at SSC are very proud of Thomas. He's a very good football player and an even better person. I think that he will be a good fit at Millsaps and will be able to be very successful as a football player and student. Thomas personifies the type of young man that St. Stanislaus wants to send into the world."

In addition to his accomplishments on the gridiron, Weber is also a four-year member of the SSC Track and Field team, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, National Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta, Campus Ministry team and the Kairos Retreat team. He has qualified to play as a freshman. Weber scored a 26 on the ACT and plans to study biology.

Weber will join local athletes on the Majors' roster including Patrick McRaney (SSC, junior), Evan Lundgren (SSC, junior) and Landon Wimberley (Pass Christian, freshman).

Weber's father, Johnny, added, "Colette and I are thrilled with Thomas' decision to attend and play football at Millsaps. We were impressed with head coach Aaron Pelch and assistant coach Andrew Chau, specifically their commitment to developing student-athletes and strong leaders. Millsaps is a perfect fit for Thomas. Playing football for the Majors will enhance his college experience and provide a lifetime of memories."

Millsaps projects Weber as a defensive end for the Majors. Millsaps College defensive coordinator Andrew Chau stated, "Our defense uses multiple fronts for the defensive line. Thomas is a great addition to our football program on many levels. He comes from a strong academic high school in Saint Stanislaus College. The academic program at Millsaps College is rigorous. The foundation from Saint Stanislaus will minimize the adjustment to the demands of a college curriculum. Thomas has all the athletic tools to contribute to our football program immediately. His height and frame are perfect for our defensive front. Our defensive lineman execute run and pass techniques from several different alignments. Therefore, the player must have a "good mind" for the game as well as college level athletic ability. Thomas possesses these qualities for immediate and long term success at Millsaps College."

Millsaps, which was 3-7 overall and 2-5 in conference play in 2017, participates in Division III of the NCAA and is a member of the Southern Athletic Association with Berry College, Birmingham-Southern College, Centre College, Hendrix College, Oglethorpe University, Rhodes College, Sewanee: The University of the South, Austin College, and Trinity University.

The friends and family of Oreader Richardson of Bay St. Louis on Wednesday surprised the senior with a celebration at the Hancock County Senior Citizen Center in honor of her 105th birthday.

"Oreader has been at the center since day one," Hancock County Senior Citizen Center Director Arlene Johnson said. "She is Mrs. Oreader, she is 'Aunt Rita', she is teenager, she is all of the above."

The senior center – which falls under the umbrella of the Hancock County Human Resources Agency – has "celebrated getting older every day since 1972," HCHRA Executive Director Lora Mederos said.

"She (Oreader) was with the program when I started over 34 years ago," Johnson said. "We've had some exciting times, we've had some times that we've disagreed on things, but not too often, but she usually gets her way."

Johnson shared a story about a trip she, Oreader and others took to Tupelo. The group visited the birthplace of Elvis Presley. Oreader is a self-proclaimed fan of his gospel music.

"We went into his home and they say not to touch anything," Johnson said. "First thing she (Oreader) does is sit on the bed and start bouncing."

After touring the house and gift shop, the group visited the chapel where Elvis' hymns are played continuously, Johnson said.

"She (Oreader) and the other ladies were getting in the spirit," Johnson said. "When it got to be over an hour, I said we have to go. She said, 'just a little while longer.'"

Another hour passed before Oreader finally got up to leave, Johnson said.

Oreader also enjoys having her picture taken, Johnson said.

During her trip, Oreader took pictures next to an Elvis statue and a large cutout of Elvis wearing white pants and a pink sports coat. Johnson enlarged the pictures as a gift for Oreader.

FRIENDS ALSO GAVE OREADER A BOUQUET OF FLOWERS.

"For her 100th birthday, I gave her the choice of the three pictures to take home with her and she picked the white pants and pink sports coat," she said. "She has been with me or I have been with her. She has touched everyone's life. It's kind of been rewarding for me. She's always been there for me. And every day she reads that Bible, every day, multiple times a day."

Johnson said that Oreader credits drinking a cup of hot water every morning for her good health and extended age.

Johnson also announced that the center will be installing a bench and planting a crepe myrtle in front of the center in Oreader's honor. A stone with her name on it will also be installed.

"That will be our special seating place to honor her, way into the future," Johnson said. "We'll never forget her."

In addition to flowers and gifts, Bay St. Louis Mayor Mike Favre, Councilman Jeffrey Reed and Bay St. Louis Police Department's Cpt. Wes Mayley presented Oreader with a proclamation from the city.

Robert Moore, director of the Area Agency on Aging also presented Oreader with a certificate to honor her birthday.

Johnson said she also reached out to local schools and told them about Oreader's upcoming milestone birthday.

Students from Mrs. Benvenutti's third-grade class at North Bay Elementary; Ms. Debbie's class from Camp Care; and Ms. Allen's second-grade class from Hancock North Elementary made birthday cards for Oreader.

Seniors from the senior citizen also signed a large card and presented it to Oreader.

When asked about the surprise party, Oreader said, "they really pulled one over on me."

She said it was difficult to express her feelings about the day.

"I just love the senior citizens," Oreader said. "They're all so good to me. And not only me, but they're good to everybody. I thank the Lord for 105 years and I keep on trusting in the Lord. I feel good. My mother taught me to respect all people, everybody's got red blood. I thank God for everything today. Everybody's my friend."

The family is hosting another celebration on Saturday, April, 7 at the Lakeshore Community Center from 4 to 8 p.m. Everyone is invited, Oreader's nephew, Clarence Harris, said.

FRIENDS FROM THE SENIOR CENTER COLLECTED MONEY FOR OREADER'S BIRTHDAY.

Meet Sissy, an adorable girl who is currently at the Hancock County Animal Shelter. We adore precious Sissy! And, in fact, all our staff and volunteers are smitten with this gentle, sweet soul. At just a year or so old, she has already had a litter of puppies, despite just being not more than a puppy herself. Sissy, a Terrier mix at best guess, is a loving soul once she relaxes and understands that you only mean her love and kindness. She is happiest when sitting in your lap, sharing togetherness, and being petted. We don't think Sissy's past included a lot of TLC. She would be the perfect little companion for a sweet natured, gentle child, who would love and pamper Sissy. She bonded very quickly with a tender hearted young volunteer who spent a little time with her. The two sat together for at least an hour, just chillin' and sharing a special moment. Sissy would also be the sweetest of companions for retirees or seniors looking for a quiet, loving, well behaved friend. We are not sure if Sissy is house or crate trained, but she kept her crate clean, and walks well on a leash. She does fine with other friendly dogs. We want the absolute most wonderful home and family for Sissy. She deserves it! They all do! Please come meet this darling pup at 7175 Texas Flat Rd, Kiln, or call 466 4516 for more information on Sissy. Please visit our Facebook page, Hancock County Animal Shelter, MS, to see more pictures of Sissy and of the many other wonderful, adoptable animals looking for their forever homes.

The government's business is your business.

And Mississippians count on their newspapers to keep apprised of public notice advertising.

Half of Mississippi adults recall reading or seeing public notice advertising in a local or state newspaper.

And almost half (46%) of adults who have seen public notice advertising prefer to receive them in a printed newspaper, much higher than any other source.

Most Mississippians (87%) say keeping the public informed through public notices and legal advertising is an important requirement for government agencies. And the preferred method of receiving these notices is in a printed newspaper along with their associated websites.

According to a 2013 Advertising and Media Use Survey*, legal ads in printed newspapers have a much higher credibility than other media.

Over 1.5 million Mississippians read their local newspaper. Whether in print, online or on the go, newspapers are the leading source of information for Mississippi.

WHERE HAVE ALL THE FLOWERS GONE?

In the early 60's there was a very popular folk song called, "Where have all the flowers gone?" written by Pete Seeger. This song has been recorded by many artists and in many languages.

Considered to be a political song the message is very strong and has so much meaning. Many say it talks about the struggles of anger and war among the nations, but some have said it speaks also to the inner struggles of man with himself. The phrase "When will they ever learn," is the endless battle within all of us and passes from generation to generation. I think about this song in a different but similar way. I firmly believe that all of us could sing this song and not talk about the warfare within us but to the wisdom that has escaped us through the loss of older and wiser generations. Seeger's song relates to young girls plucking the flowers and then the young girls being picked by the young men for their wives. The men go off to war and return to graveyards, which again produces flowers for the young girls to go and pluck again. It is a rotation that seems to never cease.

Thinking back to when I was a teenager I wish that I had spent more time listening and learning from the previous generation. Even though we are in the midst of the most advanced electronic age, have we learned the basics of life or are we just getting by with imitations that will soon fade into obscurity? What has happened to common courtesy? Where has the respect of elders gone to? What about the reverence of Sunday and God's house?

We have become a generation of fast food, less family time, impatience, rudeness, little or no hospitality, self-centeredness, laziness, and, for many, Godlessness.

The world moves in a fast circular motion and the people are continuing to look about and wonder why we are changing to the immoral and unethical values that are so prevalent today. Why have we quit standing up and speaking up for God?

Why are we allowing radical religions to dictate to us what we should or should not be doing? Little by little Satan and his force of demons are taking away our freedoms that our previous generations treasured and stood up for.

Where have all the flowers gone? Gone to graveyards every one, when will we ever learn? If we continue on this path of destruction and our non-obedience to the one and only true God, then we will go to graveyards with no legacy to leave to our future generations.

The future starts now and if we are not willing to stand and fight for what we know is right, then we have no hope. We need to hear and heed the psalmist words in Psalm 37:1: "Do not fret because of evil men or be envious of those who do wrong

Counting Your Change

Christina has a one dollar bill to buy a set of tiny colored pencils which costs 78¢.

How much change will she get?

To figure this out, first count from 78 to 80. Because you are counting by 1s, circle a penny for each number.

Change-Making Challenge

Circle the change that Scott the store clerk needs to give each customer.

Mrs. Greene gives Scott $3.00 to buy a ball for her dog. Circle her change in coins.

Justin gives Scott $4.00 to buy a fidget spinner. Circle his change in coins.

Charlotte gives Scott $5.00 for a flashlight. Circle her change.

A Note to Parents
Work with your child on this activity. Try it with different money amounts. Use real coins. Learning to count change takes a lot of practice!

Now that you are at 80, counting by 1s to 100 would call for a lot of pennies to make change. You could do that, but most people like to get their change with a small number of coins.

Providing the rest of the change in dimes would mean counting by 10s. With the 2 pennies you are at 80, so with the next dime, you would be at 90. Another dime makes 100. Circle the 2 dimes to show the change you counted to get to $1.00.

Which path adds up to 86¢?

Extra! Extra!

Count Them Up

Find two prices in ads in today's newspaper. Which is the lowest price? Count, using coins from the lower to the higher price. Which coins would you use?

Standards Link: Math: Calculate sums and differences using money amounts.

Why did the student eat the dollar bill?

ANSWER: His mom told him it was for his lunch.

NASA Astro Camp schedule

SEA COAST ECHO

The NASA Stennis Space Center Education Office announces the schedule and registration details for its 2018Stennis Astro Camp®, a series of week-long summer camps held in June and July (excluding the week of July 4th).

Camps are held at INFINITY Science Center, located at the intersection of I-10 Exit 2 and Highway 607. The program launches on June 4, with weekly camps running through July 20. The program is developed with age-appropriate STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) activities and NASA content for student groups in grades 2-4, 5-7 and 8-10.

Astro Camp® is a part of the NASA Out of School-time Learning and Human Exploration Organization initiatives, which seek to provide opportunities for learners to engage in STEM education activities that capitalize on NASA's unique assets and content to inspire future astronauts and engineers to learn about space. All Astro Camp®instructors are certified educators with STEM experience to ensure the robust instruction for campers, and Astro Camp® counselors are college-enrolled NASA interns. Additional certified educators will be participating in the 2018 Astro Camp® educational professional development program throughout the summer, connecting classrooms to NASA's educational resources supporting both Next Generation Science Standards, and College and Career Readiness Standards, all applied utilizing NASA Astro Camp® methodologies.

The theme for this year's Astro Camp® is "Together We Go Farther ... Moon ... Mars ... & Beyond!" Astro Camp®presents math and science principles through fun, hands-on activities that teach teams of campers to work together to complete missions. Astro Camp® sessions provide campers the NASA experience of aeronautics from first flight to space flight; technology engineering design with coding and robotics applications; and solar system-and-beyond activities featuring planets, moons, stars, and galaxies, with an encompassing survey of Earth systems. Human exploration activities include real-world applications for living and working on the International Space Station today and for preparing the next generation of explorers to live and work on the Moon and Mars tomorrow. The 8th-10th grade STARS Astro Camp® includes extensive computer-focused robotics exercises and a hands-on 3D-printing experience with emphasis on design applications. Distance-learning experiences are featured, using NASA center experts and educators throughout NASA. An additional week is scheduled for the STARS Astro Camp®, featuring the U.S. Navy Research Laboratory's SeaPerch remotely-operated vehicle program and NASA sharing activities from space to ocean robotics.

Registration for the 2018 camps began on March 29, and continues on a first-come, first-served basis. All registration must be completed and mailed to the address provided on the Astro Camp®website listed below. For more information, call 228-688-3485. To register, visit the Astro Camp® webpage at:
